Goodbye to the world of work 4.0 - Welcome to Engagement 1.0

An effective contribution to the outstanding changes should be made provide a global pool of skills and skilled workers. A Swiss Consortium provides the starting impulse for the development of a pool of competences and skilled workers.

The transformation and implementation specialists count on the opportunities of the new technologies blockchain, artificial intelligence (AI / KI) and quantum computers as well as new forms of economic and social systems.

In the context of the Industrial Revolution 4.0 and the reset-related changes and transformations will change the conventional world of work into a "world of engagement".

The existing skills and resources should go in line with requirements and can be developed and coordinated globally so that the change processes of transformations will be designed easier, faster and better.

With this initiative, strengths and know-how are to be bundled and integrated into a start-up company.
